

Pursuing Global Justice
Through Grassroots Change

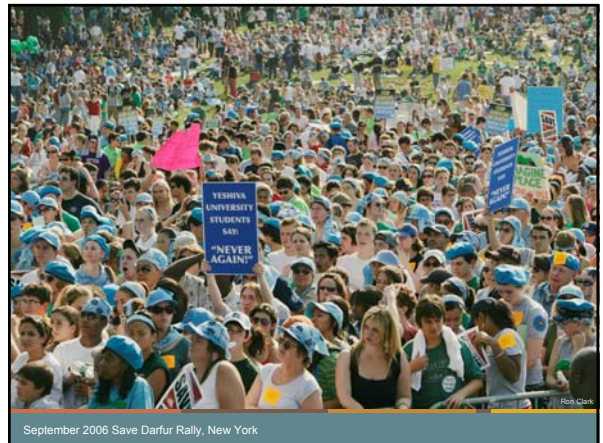

Responding to Genocide in Darfur, Sudan

AJWS is dedicated to alleviating poverty, hunger and disease among the people of the developing world.

Women stand in the ruins of an attacked Sirba village, Darfur

September 2006 Save Darfur Rally, New York

What We've Won

- U.S. envoy for Sudan
- Increased sanctions
- Federal divestment legislation
- Authorization of an international peacekeeping force
- Millions of dollars for humanitarian aid and peacekeeping
- Referral to the International Criminal Court
- Millions of lives saved

Women and children sift through grain, Zam Zam camp, Darfur

The Current Situation

Internally Displaced Persons in Darfur	More than 2.47 million people
Internally Displaced Persons in Chad	More than 185,000 people
Sudanese refugees in Eastern Chad	250,000 people in camps
People in Need of Assistance	More than 4.5 million people
Estimated Deaths Since February 2003	More than 450,000 men, women and children

Sources: United Nations agencies; Prof. Eric Reeves

Ending the Genocide

Engagement for peace. Appoint a high-profile, well-staffed envoy for Sudan and leverage executive staff expertise.

Civilian Protection. Ensure funding and logistical support for peacekeeping.

Justice and Accountability. Pursue targeted sanctions on those responsible for violence. Support the International Criminal Court's investigations of crimes in Darfur.

What You Can Do

- Raise Funds. Support the AJWS Sudan Relief and Advocacy Fund.
- Raise Awareness. Educate and engage your community. Author an op-ed, letter to the editor or blog article. Give a presentation.
- Take Action. Help make Darfur a priority from Day One of Obama's administration. Support justice for Darfur. Contact your elected officials. Divest yourself.

Rally participants, September 2005, Washington, D.C.

For More Information

Write: ajws@ajws.org

Call: 800.889.7146

Visit: www.ajws.org/darfur